

Advice 13-2018 on evaluation of the module "Fresh, prepared and processed fishery products" relating to the generic self-checking guide for the B2C sector

Background and terms of reference

The module "Fresh, prepared and processed fishery products" is a complement to the generic self-checking guide for the B2C sector. It is intended for operators who handle and sell fresh unpackaged fishery products and/or who prepare or process fishery products before they are sold to the consumer.

As part of the validation of this module, the Scientific Committee has been asked to evaluate it. The Scientific Committee has also been asked to answer some specific questions about the preparation and processing techniques discussed in the guide.

Methodology

The evaluation of the module is based on scientific knowledge of the Scientific Committee and the different experts, members of the task force, as well as on relevant legislation.

Conclusion

The Scientific Committee agrees with the information and recommendations contained in the module, provided modifications are implemented taking into account the remarks made in this opinion.
